For the John Borden Award the letters should indicate the contribution of your work to IPM and for the Keith Kevan and Biological Survey Awards the letters should indicate the contribution of your work to biosystematics . These should be emailed to jsc21@sfu.ca with your name in the subject line.

Any applications not meeting this format will not be reviewed.

Process of Selection and Award Presentation:

Applications will be reviewed by a committee of the Society based on the following criteria: 1) Academic record, 2) Research project (description, scientific interest, methodology, progress, 3) CV (work experience, scientific papers, conferences, scholarships), (5) why entomology and relevant entomological experience, 4) Referee evaluations.

An announcement of the winners will be made at the annual meeting of the Society and each winner will receive a certificate. Payment of the award will be made in the autumn.

Regulations:

Earnings from Other Sources:

Award holders are expected to be full time graduate students and may hold other awards and scholarships.

Transfers:

Awards are made on the condition that the winners engage in a program of graduate studies and research for an advanced degree in entomology in Canada. Students who, after receiving the award, wish to change their graduate program or transfer to a foreign university may be asked to decline the award. Any change in the course of study, department or university in which an award winner is registered requires prior approval of the Scholarship Committee. A request to transfer must be supported by statements from The Department Head.

Additional Allowances: The award stipends are all-inclusive. There is no provision for additional grants by the Society for any purpose. Additional grants, for example, to attend meetings, pay course fees, meet publications costs, etc., will not, under any circumstances, be authorized.
